

Dear Phil,

12/10/84

The envelope you mentioned when you phoned came today. I've read your letter and Jimmy's and the rest and response will have to await my work on what is indicated in enclosures some of which I've marked confidential because for the time being I want you to make no mention of them to anyone. However, because you have FOIA filings and an archive, I am informing you, to a degree.

If you want the decision in the field offices case, please ask Jim for it. He had not seen a copy when he phoned me yesterday or Saturday night and our copier is in need of servicing so I'm using it as little as possible. The repair service just postponed the scheduled servicing today five minutes ago.

Jimmy is confused on the two black maids, who were not interviewed by the FBI but are part of my investigation, which I reported to him. They may have been seen by the FBI, I do not now recall, but Jimmy's information comes from me and I did interview one of them.

The Baton Rouge name is identical with one we developed as Jim Lesar was doing some checking for me and as I was teaching him how. I believe it also coincides with a N.O. address I add and photographed and inquired into.

Take my advice and give Jimmy nothing because if he does not misuse it and he has Lane again, "ane has an unerring instinct for what as best is drastic misuse. When you go into things like your Galt lead, you have to communicate, but be careful. And always with everything with Jerry, who will do Jimmy's bidding without question. Jerry is only nuts at his best moments. He is a virulent racist, as believing nazi, a liar who thinks lying is fun, and fuller of shit than an overworked and undercleaned community privy.

When Jim and I spoke he made brief mention of the RFK request. Hex has a good idea on how to begin. As he said, he's learning. You will undoubtedly have to litigate the fee waiver and when you do I think I can help.

If you say anything at all to Jerry you risk his running off at the mouth about it and not infrequently unfaithfully. And he is incredibly stubborn and incapable of learning or changing. He is so slackjawed that when the FBI could have out him away on a harboring charge they let him alone to pick up what he blabbed. He is so stupid he went to bed with an FBI informer who before and after informed on him! Yet he actually believes that he is a genius. Next only to Lane, to whom he refers as "The Holy "an."

Best wishes,
